PUBLIC COMMENTS:

A Resident mentioned that he has a neighbor that has cows in front of the house and has placed the electric fence right on the property line and so this Resident is unable to maintain his lawn. This Resident wanted to know if there is an ordinance prohibiting having the cows in the front yard and putting an electric fence on the property line. H. Wymore stated that he did not think there was anything in the township ordinance but would have to check with the Zoning Administrator to be sure. The Planning Commission Chairperson said that there is nothing in the zoning ordinance about either of them. J. Welke stated that we will have to look into the zoning ordinance. H. Wymore stated that he would talk with the Zoning Administrator. Another Resident stated that they have cows in their front yard and wondered if that was a problem. They also have an electric fence. This Resident stated that we live in an agricultural community.
